1. What are FEMS Grants?

Members of FEMS Member Societies can apply for research grants, industry placements grants and/or support when organizing or attending a meeting, including our Member Societies' national and regional congresses. Every year we award hundreds of thousands of Euros to help meetings organizers, and the microbiology community in general, bring together leading experts and Early Career Scientists* (ECs) to share their respective knowledge, enthusiasm, and ideas.

* An Early Career Scientist is an active microbiologist who obtained their highest academic degree (Bachelor, Master or PhD) less than five years prior to the application deadline date, or is currently a Masters or PhD student. Periods of maternity/paternity and long-term sick leave do not count towards this 5-year limit.

As a member of a FEMS Member Society, you are eligible to apply for any of our grants. These include Research and Training, FEMS Industry Placements, FEMS Congress/Conference, Meeting Attendance and Meeting Organizer grants. Membership of one of our Members Societies is required for all FEMS grants except for the FEMS Congress/Conference Attendance grants. In addition to these FEMS grants, we also give out joint awards for early career scientists with the European Society of Clinical Microbiology and Infectious Diseases (ESCMID) and American Society for Microbiology (ASM).

Not a member? Join one of the FEMS Member Societies in order to apply for our grants. Members of Member Societies can apply for grants from day one.

2. Applying for a FEMS grant

You can apply for a grant using our online grants system, which will require you to have a FEMS account/profile.

- You can create an account here or login with your credentials here
- Once logged in to your FEMS profile, you can access the application forms for our Grants via this <https://crm.fems-microbiology.org/grants-awards>

You can also find the application forms in your FEMS profile at anytime:

- login to your FEMS profile
- then under 'Announcements' click on the 'Begin your application for a FEMS Grant'
- select the grant you wish to apply for
- fill in the form, save your progress and come back to it and once you are ready – Submit

Please check in the following overview the requirements and appropriate grant type for you. In preparation for your application we list here all information relevant for your application along with documents and forms required during the application process, but we will also provide you with links to all necessary grant application and reporting templates within the online application form. You can also find all required forms on the FEMS Grants page.

IMPORTANT NOTES:

Compliance – It is important that you adhere to these FEMS Grants regulations since non-compliance may result in the cancellation of the grant or even a refunding request.

Table 5: Explanation of what we need from you

Before the project or event
Insurance	All	Please make sure that you are properly insured. FEMS is not responsible for any injury or ill effect suffered in connections with your project or event.
Grants distribution and management	MOG	A minimum of 60% of the FEMS Meeting Organizer Grant must be solely applied to support the attendance of ECSs. The opportunity for ECSs to apply for an ECSMG should be widely promoted through the meeting's website. Note that you are also responsible for receiving and reviewing the applications and for transferring the grant to the grantee, either before or at the meeting. Additional to the criteria defined by the meeting, it is important that you select ECSs using the following criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• only Early Career Scientists are eligible</li> <li>• not too many grantees from the same institution and/or country should be selected.</li> </ul> ECSs may be granted a maximum of 750 EUR and a minimum of 250 EUR to assist with travel and accommodation. Invited Speakers may be granted a maximum of 900 EUR. Once you have awarded the ECSMGs, you will need to complete this application form (Please note that you must be logged in to your FEMS account/profile to view the form). Submission of this form must be at least two months before the starting date of the meeting (unless the timing of the meeting would not allow that).
Meeting updates	MOG	You should send relevant meeting updates (change of event date, venue, registration/abstract submission deadlines) to FEMS Business Office. Note: Before we can authorize funding, the FEMS Grants Committee needs to approve the final programme. If you do not have a final meeting programme at the time of grant application, you need to send it as soon as it is available.
